

GERMAN PEOPLE
TIRING OF CAMPAIGN

Private Advices Tell of Dissatisfaction Over Ruthless Warfare

GRUMBLINGS NOW HEARD

Entry of U. S. Into War and Rupture with Neutrals Now Taken Seriously

PLACE NO TIME LIMIT

COPENHAGEN, June 2, via London.—Private advices from Germany tell of growing dissatisfaction among the people at large with the political results of the ruthless submarine campaign and that absence of an indication that it has brought the desired peace near to hand.

People Remember Prediction
During their long campaign for the unrestricted use of submarines, the advocates of this measure made very definite promises of immediate results. "Two or three months," was the phrase used everywhere in street and newspaper arguments in regard to the time it would take to bring England to her knees, ready for peace. Even the official propaganda has since declared the government bound itself to no particular time to produce results, the prediction that they would be obtained in two or three months has remained in the minds of the people.

Grumblings are now heard that although four months have passed England shows no signs of weakening but on the contrary seems determined to prosecute the war more bitterly than ever.

Regard Situation With Gloom
Statements that France has been bled white and forced to retire from the war have been made so often that they no longer attract the slightest credence. The entry of the United States into the war and the rupture of relations between Germany and the bulk of the neutral world outside Europe is now taken seriously and regarded with gloom.

Questions have been recently asked the correspondent by Germans, here not in official positions, who are disgruntled over the results of the submarine campaign up to the present time, as to what would be the effect in the United States if the submarine warfare were now abandoned. The government, however, shows no signs of weakening and is now engaged in a vigorous publicity campaign to bolster up the waning confidence at home and quiet the complaints of neutrals.

Refused to Commit Himself
It is a matter of knowledge, the correspondent that at least one member of the German government refused to commit himself to any definite time limit for bringing Great Britain into a frame of mind to discuss peace.

In the correspondent's last informal conversation with Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, head of the foreign office, a few hours before news of the rupture of relations with the United States was received, Berlin, the minister who was on tenter hooks to know what the United States would do, declared impulsively:

"If the United States will only keep hands off and let us alone, two or three months will be enough."

Then, noticing the correspondent pick up his ears at this foreign office use of the stock phrase of the ruthlessness advocates, he quickly amended his estimate.

"Say six months," he said, and then reading a further query in the correspondent's eyes said: "Well, let us not fix any definite time."

Prepare Readers
German naval writers for some time have been preparing their readers for a possible falling off in the monthly figures of tonnage destroyed by submarines. Many of them furnish the advance explanation that this, if it happens, will be due largely to the absence of vessels to torpedo, or, in some articles, to the results of British methods. No mention of any increase in losses of submarines is made.

AMERICAN UNIFORMS
PROMINENT AT CEREMONY

LONDON, June 2.—American uniforms worn by Chicago and Philadelphia units of physicians and nurses now in London, were in a prominent position at a remarkable open air ceremony in Hyde Park today at which, under clear sky, King George awarded war decorations to 33 officers and men of the British army. It was the most elaborate affair of the kind ever held in London.

At the front of the park's enclosure was a canopied pavilion for members of the royal family, flanked by rows of cahrs for the soldiers, sailors and nurses designated for decorations together with the American delegations, representatives of the dominions and of Great Britain's allies, members of parliament and others.

PLAN INSURANCE FOR AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Council of National Defense to Take Up Question this Week

Report of Commerce Department Offers Long List of Arguments Showing Advantage of Working Out a Compensation System Before American Lives Are Lost in War.

Washington, June 2.—Plans for insuring $4,000 free government insurance on the life of every American soldier and sailor during the war in lieu of pension arrangements will be taken up next week by the Council of National Defense. A report prepared by Assistant Secretary Sweet of the commerce department ready to be submitted urges that the insurance be provided thru legislation before American troops are sent to France.

Provide For Flat Insurance.
The defense council took up the question some weeks ago and turned the whole subject over to the department of commerce for investigation. The report now ready offers a long list of arguments showing the advantage of working out a compensation system before American lives are lost in the war. The plans as prepared provide for a flat insurance of $4,000 on the life of every officer and private in the military and naval service, to be paid to his beneficiaries without premiums. A government insurance bureau would handle the whole subject and there would be provision for a system of insurance by which officers and men desiring to do so could take out coverage higher than the $4,000 free policy by paying premiums at peace rates.

Would Improve Moral of Troops.
Insurance companies, it is said, are ready to approve the scheme if assured the government will not continue in the insurance business after the war. One argument advanced for the insurance plan is that it would improve the morale of the troops since many would go into battle much more willingly if assured that their dependents would be cared for if they were killed. The plan would provide also insurance for partial or total disability.

Government officials are convinced the best way to dispose of the pension problem is to meet it before hand. The history of the pension system since the civil war has shown many abuses which it is hoped to avoid by providing insurance before men are killed.

WILL CALL CHICAGO
VOLUNTEERS FIRST

CHICAGO, June 2.—The Chicago volunteer training corps is the first unit of Illinois' volunteer army to be recognized by the state council of defense and will be the first called upon by Governor Lowden under the terms of the militia bill passed by the state senate yesterday.

The state council of defense met here today and gave official sanction to the Chicago volunteer training corps and the way is now open for starting the work of drilling in Grant park.

The corps will be composed of men between 20 and 40 years of age who are desirous of obtaining preliminary military training in preparation for active war service later.

It is estimated that there are 280,000 men in Chicago's downtown official district eligible for service in the volunteer corps who will drill an hour a day.

FORBID EATING OF CAKE AND CANDY

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., June 2.—Eating of cake and candy was forbidden in the barracks of one of the companies at the Reserve Officers Training Camp here today, and it was asserted, similar orders shortly will be posted in all of the company barracks. It was asserted that numbers of the men have not been hardening under the physical drill as rapidly as possible because of cookies, candy and soda water consumed between meals. Unusual to the work in open, others it was said, have been over-eating at meal times. The latter practice, however, is automatically righting itself.

Quartermaster statistics at the post shows that the government has purchased $50,000 worth of food for the candidates at Fort Sheridan in the last fifteen days, including 113,000 pounds of potatoes.

TECHNICALLY PLACE
EIGHT UNDER ARREST

CEDAR RAPIDS, June 2.—Federal authorities at an early hour today technically placed under arrest eight men, one a lawyer and another a railroad man for the spreading of anti-draft literature. The arrests were made by United States Deputy Marshal M. L. Healy and he refused to make the names public until he received authority from Washington. He says the railroad man has made a confession of his activities and a lot of literature was confiscated in his home which was raided shortly after midnight. The railroad man is said to be a Socialist.

ASKS FOR ATTITUDE OF U. S. TOWARD MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, June 2.—El Universal, in an editorial today urges United States Ambassador Fletcher to outline the attitude of the United States toward Mexico. The paper says that the Washington government still treats Mexico as an enemy, in spite of its neutral position. It offers the embargo on arms as proof of this charge.

Jose Lopez Salazar, a Villista leader is reported in government circles to have offered to surrender. He is said to be on his way to Sonora to treat with General Calles.

RUSH HEARINGS ON RAILROAD PETITION

WASHINGTON, June 2.—With testimony proceedings before a special examiner as well as before the full interstate commerce commission, hearings on the petition of the railroads for a fifteen percent advance in freight rates are being rushed to allow hearing of all the parties who have put in appearances before June 7, when the case against the carriers is to be closed. Food interests and many other shippers protested against the proposed increase at today's hearing.

Next week representatives of shippers in diversified industries from several sections as well as state railroad commissions will present additional protests and on Thursday and Friday the carriers will introduce testimony in rebuttal. Final arguments for all interests will be heard June 9, 11 and 12.

PUBLISHERS PREFER TAX ON ADVERTISING

National Publishing Interests Urge Move At Conference

Newspaper, Magazine, Trade, Religious, Farm and Many Other Publishing Interests Join in Plea to be Reported to Finance Committee Monday.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—War taxation of publishers advertising receipts rather than increases of their postage rates was vigorously urged today by representatives of national publishing interests at an informal conference with Senators who are re-drafting the war tax bill.

To Report Plea to Committee.
Newspaper, magazine, trade, religious, farm and many other publishing interests joined in the plea which will be reported to the finance committee Monday when it resumes revision of the house war tax measure. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, Senator Penrose, senior Republican member and Senator Smoot received the publishers' representatives today to thrash out the whole question of war taxes upon the publications having the second class or cent a pound mailing rate. The publishers were asked to suggest a taxation plan, and the usual whole question of war taxes upon advertising receipts was the result after an hour's discussion. The increased postage rates would put many publishers out of business and could not be passed along, the committee was told while a tax upon advertising receipts could be met by increased advertising rates.

"Newspapers are not desirous of escaping a tax," the committee was told by Elbert H. Baker of the Cleveland Plain-Dealer, chairman of the legislative committee of the American Newspaper Publishers association.

But we would rather have a direct tax on advertising receipts at a fair rate than any change in postage rate. Such a change might become permanent. All of us prefer to have the postage question to be handled separately from war tax legislation."

To a statement by Senator Penrose that thousands of letters are being received by members of congress protesting against increasing letter rates if second class rates are allowed to stand, Mr. Baker replied that the one cent letter postage league, contributed to by manufacturers was behind a propaganda of that kind.

Represents Farm Journals.
Representing farming journals, E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, Iowa, advocated an advertising tax. Mr. Meredith said he represented 55 farm journals which had together made $581,000 profit last year and had paid $569,000 in postage.

"A postage increase would hurt us absolutely," he said. "We would accept an advertising tax, hoping to get by but a postage increase would mean bankruptcy. An at that, a tax of one percent on advertising means an actual tax of 20 percent upon our profits, as they are net only about 10 percent."

CALLS ATTENTION TO DRAFT PROVISION

WASHINGTON, June 2.—In an official announcement today Attorney General Gregory called renewed attention to the provision of the army draft law which provides that no man can choose imprisonment as a substitute for registration but will suffer the first and be conscripted to do the latter if he resists. "It has come to the notice of the department," said the attorney-general, "that certain disloyal citizens who are themselves beyond the conscription age are suggesting to young men that it is better to suffer imprisonment than to register."

CHICAGO U. PLANS
TWO MEDICAL SCHOOLS

CHICAGO, June 2.—Two medical schools to cost $5,500,000 is the immediate plan of the University of Chicago, according to Harry Pratt Judson, president of the institution, in speaking to the compensation committee of the city council. According to present plans, one school will be located on the other on the west side. The plan of the University is to make Chicago a medical center equalled by none elsewhere, according to Dr. Judson.

HOOVER LISTS GRAIN
NEEDS OF NATIONS

Allies and European Neutrals Require 971,000,000 Bushels

MORE THAN CAN SUPPLY

Hoover Believes U. S. and Canada Can Export This Year 60,000,000 Bu. of Grain

HOOVER DENIES REPORT

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The grain requirements of the allies and the European neutrals were put at 971,000,000 bushels, a total much greater than the United States can supply, in a statement by Herbert C. Hoover today, listing the minimum needs of each nation for human consumption and for feed.

Amounts Presented to Hoover
The amounts have been presented to Mr. Hoover by the foreign governments as follows:

United Kingdom—Bread grains, 225,000,000 bu.; fodder grains 179,000,000 bu.

France—Bread grains, 175,000,000 bu.; fodder grains, 70,000,000 bushels.

Italy—Bread grains, 90,000,000 bushels; fodder grains, 60,000,000 bushels.

Belgium-Portugal—Bread grains, 50,000,000 bushels.

European neutrals and ex-European neutrals—Bread grains, 15,000,000 bushels; fodder grains 115,000,000 bushels.

Totals—Bread grains, 555,000,000 bushels; fodder grains, 415,000,000 bushels.

It will, of course, be impossible, said Mr. Hoover, "for North America to furnish all of this quantity, altho the major load must fall upon us. In any event, it emphasizes the necessity for control of exports in order to control prices and protect our supply and the necessity for conservation and elimination of waste in order to increase the volume of our exports."

Mr. Hoover believes the United States and Canada can export this year at least 600,000,000 bushels of grain. If the winter wheat crop improves and the spring crop is larger than normal he believes this may be increased to 800,000,000. Shipment of that much grain, much of it wheat however, will force American consumers to eat less wheat than usual and eat more of other cereals.

To Co-ordinate Purchases

Co-ordination of allied food purchases will be established as soon as the food bills and the export limitations act become laws. At present the allies and neutral countries are purchasing in large quantities for future delivery. The food administration as soon as it is created will begin to pass on these purchases to protect American consumers. Mr. Hoover denied a report today that the food administration will buy the country's grain crop for distribution. There is no intention, he said of going into the grain business. More than a dozen women home economic experts called on Mr. Hoover today to learn how they may assist in food conservation. Most of them are teachers of home economics in women's colleges.

It was explained at the food administration's offices that the group in Mr. Hoover's tabulation designated as ex-European neutrals included all neutral nations outside Europe, South American countries will take the bulk of the grain needed for this group.

RECOMMEND DISCHARGE OF 75 ROOKIES

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., June 2.—Discharge of about seventy-five candidates for commissions from the reserve officers' training camp here was recommended today because their captains did not believe they showed in making out cards for draft registration proper spirit for officers of the United States army. The men were married, were physically disabled or were under military age. The captain of one company told the men one by one that unless they were willing to serve as privates they were not wanted as command officers.

A full holiday was granted the men in the camp today while tomorrow they will have the usual freedom from drill.

CONTINUE SEARCH FOR WEALTHY BANKER'S SON

Establish No Clue to Indicate Fate of Youngster

Keet, Believing Publicity Has Injured His Chances of Paying Ransom, Refuses to Discuss Efforts He and His Friends Are Making to Solve Mystery

Springfield, Mo., June 2.—With secrecy veiling each move the search continued unrelenting here today for Lloyd Keet, the fourteen months old son of J. Holland Keet, wealthy banker, missing since Wednesday night, when, it was said, he was taken from the family home here while his father and mother were attending a dance at the Country Club. Not the slightest trace of him has been found and no clue has been established to indicate the fate of the brown haired, lively little youngster. Rumors concerning the case kept on mounting up here tonight as Mr. Keet, believing that publicity already had injured his chances of paying whatever sum of ransom money might be demanded by the abductors, refused to discuss the efforts he and his friends were making to solve the mystery. The latest gossip was that the father already had paid the sum asked by the kidnappers and that the boy was to be returned tomorrow after the abductors had had sufficient time to leave Springfield. But that met with denial and could not be confirmed.

Mr. Keet today repeated that he would gladly pay the $6,000 believed to have been demanded for the return of his son. He appears to believe implicitly that the boy was kidnapped and that he will be returned safely providing the abductor can exchange the little fellow for the ransom asked.

"I will keep faith with the kidnappers, if they only will get him back," the banker said. The search had assumed the proportions of a nation-wide inquiry. Photographs and descriptions of the little fellow were being sent throughout the country, it was understood.

Von Reischwitz is charged in the indictment with being the financial agent of the alleged conspiracy and is said to have given his check for $20,000 to be used for instigation of the revolt. Bench warrants were issued for the arrest of all the defendants fixing the bonds at $25,000 each.

KAISER SEEKS U-BOAT BASE OF VENEZUELA

Germany Attempting to Get Control of The Island Of Margarita

OFFICIALS GET REPORT

State Department Forwards Information To Venezuelan Officials

UNCERTAIN OF RESULT

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Reports have reached the government from a source described as reliable that Germany is attempting to get control of the island of Margarita, off the coast of Venezuela, for use as a submarine base. The state department has forwarded the information received to Venezuela for the consideration of Venezuelan officials. The exact nature of the advice is withheld, but officials permitted it to become known today that the report had caused some concern here. They indicated that they had positive confirmation of overtures designed to secure control of the island but that they were uncertain whether the effort had met with any degree of success.

Do Not Look for Success.

Officials do not believe that the government of Venezuela would be a party to any such alienation of territory, even the temporary. Venezuela is one of the South American governments that have joined in protesting against submarine warfare as conducted by Germany, altho her technical position remains one of neutrality.

It has been known by the American government for weeks however, that German influences have been active at work in Venezuela and indirect if not direct means have been used by agents of the German emperor to secure popular and official assension.

Accession Very Unlikely.

It is suggested here that Venezuela's accession to the German overtures in the case of Margarita is rendered very unlikely by the fact that Venezuelan officials could not fail to realize the seriousness of passage of the island to the control of an enemy of the United States. It is pointed out that the cession even the temporary would be a clear violation of the Monroe Doctrine and would undoubtedly call for energetic and prompt opposition by this government.

Margarita is off the northern coast of Venezuela, near the southeastern corner of the Caribbean sea and within striking distance of the Panama canal. It is about 500 miles from Cuba and 1,000 from Colon. Its adjacent waters, including the Gulf of Cariaco, would make it admirably adapted as a naval base.

IRISH FELLOWSHIP CLUB

CHICAGO, June 2.—Speaking on "the needs of the nation at war," United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis before the Irish Fellowship Club luncheon today said:

"It is the spirit of my bill that is adopted, authorizing the president to seize all food and fuel distributed thru the agencies of the government to the people, the consumers to pay a just price to the owners. "Congress will declare it to be treason for any one in America to willfully hunger the soldiers or bring distress for the necessities of life on the people."

CHILD LABOR LAWS

It will be the hope of every true American citizen that no steps will be taken to suspend the child labor law during the war. The time may come when it may be necessary but it is not yet here. It took a good many years to bring the law making bodies of the country to a realization of the injustice of working boys and girls in the factories and mills in the coal mines of Pennsylvania. It would be most unfortunate to suspend these laws now. A little thoughtless legislation at this time might undo all the good it has taken years to accomplish and make it the work of many future years to regain. Serious thought should be given any legislation purposing to put children back into bondage.

WORKS IN CHARACTERISTIC WORDS.

Former Senator Works in his recent statement, "We dishonored ourselves by declaring war, used language quite in accord with the final days of his public service in the senate. Public service is not a correct phrase, either, with reference to the former senator, for his erratic course in the senate was the cause of humiliation to citizens in California who had honored him by sending him to the national capital. Possibly the government will pass over this traitorous utterance of the Californian, but the great majority of citizens will rejoice that the word "former" is attached to the Works name so far as the U. S. senate is concerned.

SPRINGFIELD'S FAIR WEALTH.

The city of Springfield should certainly not be short of funds for general purposes or to pay back license funds to the saloon keepers who were recently put out of business, when it is remembered that the city owns a tract of 1,000 acres of rich farming land. This land is located a few miles south of the town of McCall and was willed to the city by the late state senator, David T. Little. The farm was given to his son, Stephen Little, but the will provided that if the son died without children the property was to go to the city of Springfield. This thousand-acre tract of rich farm land is managed by the board of trustees and with present prevailing high prices for all farm products there should be sufficient income from the Springfield farm to offset a large amount of municipal extravagance.

PUNISHMENT FOR FOOD SPECULATORS.

The food investigation being made in Chicago has at least resulted in indictments against a number of individuals and firms charging them with attempts to create monopolies in eggs. The government always has a great deal of difficulty in securing conviction on such charges but it is to be hoped that the evidence this time is conclusive and that the law violators will get their just deserts—fines or imprisonment. The country hasn't the least sympathy with speculators in foodstuffs. The normal law of supply and demand has boosted prices sufficiently without the consumer being further penalized for an illegitimate profit to benefit the speculators. Prompt convictions and proper punishment following these indictments will do as much for the food supply situation as Mr. Hoover himself can accomplish.

NO TAX ON THE MOVIES.

Thousands—yes, millions—of people will approve the action of the U. S. senate finance committee in so changing the pending revenue bill that there will be no war tax levied against popular priced moving picture theatres. Taxes often mean hardship and a tax on the 5 and 10 cent theatres, which must eventually be borne by those who attend, would rob a vast number of people of amusement and recreation that they really need.

In addition the moving picture theatres have come to exert a vast educational influence and they are also helpful to society in many other ways, furnishing wholesome entertainment at low cost to many people who would likely otherwise go to less desirable places where the influences are bad. The senators considered the interest of vast numbers of people when they took this action with reference to the movies.

LIBERTY BONDS AND THE CHURCHES.

It is written that the money changers were once cast out of the temple, and so as a rule things financial not directly connected with the church are usually considered out of place for Sunday discussion in the pulpits. But an exception is to be made today for Liberty Loan Sunday is to be observed in many churches throughout the country as a result of the request made by various patriotic organizations. Suggestions that the need for supporting the U. S. in a financial way be urged from the pulpits today were made in circular letters sent to 50,000 pastors and many of them have indicated that they believe that they will be attending to "the King's business" if they urge upon the people that they have a duty to perform in purchasing these bonds and thus doing their part for a continuation of democracy and liberty. These church services will be the beginning of an intensive week's work in advertising the liberty loan bond issue. Government officials are expecting that by next Saturday night that the total reports of sales will be gratifyingly large.

CHEERING UP THE SOLDIERS.

We have been reading for days about the successes of the French and English on the battle front in Europe and their advances from time to time in the taking of cities, fortresses and prisoners. Now we have from abroad the joyous statement from the Kaiser that the British in their offensive have come to a certain conclusion and that the victory is with the Germans.

As the Kaiser puts it, "God's aid has granted our incomparable troops superhuman force to accomplish excellent acts and endure successfully the mightiest battles ever seen in the history of the war. The Lord be praised, glory for His help and thanks for such magnificent people in arms." All of which sounds very pious, coming from the Kaiser's lips, as aid in directing one of the most inhuman warfare ever waged.

This news of the German victory may be true but if it is, he reports of the last few weeks are all falsehoods. We prefer to believe and do believe that the Kaiser's statement is not founded upon fact but was issued for the encouragement of troops greatly needing encouragement after the continued hammering given them by the allied troops. Perhaps, too, the Kaiser is seeking to cheer his men before they have the disheartening sight of seeing thousands of soldiers in khaki under the Stars and Stripes pitted against them.

WHEN YOU REGISTER YOUR NAME

When you register your name, Playing fair and square the game, Like the proud sons of Columbia always do, With a heart that's beating high, Fearing not to do and die, For your country and the flag that's dear to you.

With a motive that is right, That no shame our land shall blight, Or humanity be trodden 'neath the heel; Then you'll feel the life blood flow, Like the boys of long ago, When old Independence Bell began its peal.

You will hide no coward's heart, When you bravely do your part, And your colors show that you are not a knave; Oh, we'll all be proud of you, Loyal sons of freedom true, And we'll number you among our noble brave.

'Tis the shameless traitor dies, For he lives not tho he tries, And his earthly life is only held in scorn; If his country is not dear, He's not worth a mother's tear, And be cursed the day the imp to her was born.

We've no room for weakling breed, 'Tis the Spartan lad we need, He who listens when he hears his country's cry.

Then go register your name, Walk with pride and not with shame, And we'll keep those "Stars of Glory" floating high. —S. A. Hughes.

CEMENT WALKS IN CENTRAL PARK

To the Editor of the Journal: I have been asked by my colleagues of the Morgan County Soldiers' Monument Association to make a statement regarding the new walks in Central Park. There seems to be an impression among some citizens that this work has some connection with the proposed Soldiers' Monument and that it is perhaps a part of the general plan for the monument and the improvement of the Public Square. The Soldiers' Monument Association is anxious that the citizens of the city should understand that the Association has nothing to do with this work. In fact the Association appointed its Chairman, Major McDougall, to appear before the Park Board in order to protest against laying of new walks in the Square at this time. Major McDougall pointed out to the Park Board that since it had definitely been decided to erect the Soldiers' Monument in the Public Square, it would be very unwise to proceed with the laying of new walks until the plans for the Monument were perfected and accepted. Since no one knows at present what the dimensions and detailed plans of the Monument may be, and since, in any event, the construction of the Monument will inevitably lead to hauling of heavy material over the walks, it would seem the part of wisdom and common sense to postpone the construction of the walks. Some of the work, therefore, have to be done over, perhaps within a year, and that instead of being perfect it will have to be "patch work." It is unfortunate that tax payers' money should have to be needlessly wasted.

Let us hope that the contract for the lights has not been let, so that that part of the work may be delayed at least long enough to be made to harmonize with the plans for the monument.

This statement is issued in order that the public may understand that the Monument Association made an effort to secure harmony of action and to prevent needless waste of money.

C. M. Rammelkamp,
Secretary, Morgan County Monument Assn.

LIBERTY BONDS

If you believe our country's right, And want to help her with the right, Then buy a liberty bond. If you're in earnest when you say you wish of help in every way, then buy a liberty bond. Now you've a chance that is meant to clip off coupons like a plute, so buy a liberty bond. You wish to put some coin away for time of stress or rainy day? Then buy a liberty bond. Its value never will retreat, it's good as everlasting wheat, so buy a liberty bond. And when the course of war is run, you'll proudly tell what you have done, and show your liberty bond. And that will show you stood up strong to help your Uncle Sam along; hast bought thy liberty bond? Oh, talk is cheap and war comes high, so let's be quiet an hour and buy a good old liberty bond. Don't let the rich man have them all; produce your pocket book and call for one large liberty bond. The workers of this happy land, should form in line, with cash in hand, to buy their liberty bonds. Then in the war they'll have a part; they're close up to the nation's heart, so buy a liberty bond.

THE MAKING OF "THE MASQUE OF LIFE"

Making as big a picture as "The Masque of Life" usually has its cost in death as well as money. Not only did it take seven months of strenuous directing to complete the spectacular offering, which is to be shown at this theatre, but twelve lives were lost in it, three of them human, five horses and four full grown lions burnt to death in the terrific fire which was one of many striking scenes. The story of "The Masque of Life" is woven around a beautiful circus girl who meets a young prince; a romance ensues, and through the death of the youth's father and his ascension to the throne, his love is lost to him. With extraordinary cleverness the story is brought to a higher pitch as it advances. Starting simply as a love story and first getting the characters firmly set in the onlooker's mind, its plot progresses so tremendously that it is fairly staggering; and in one part of the film the suspense is so great that it has not been unusual for women to scream or faint during the performance. Certainly no producer has ever before gone to such lengths to create excitement—the capture of a real live baby by an extremely clever chimpanzee actor was one of the features in the scenario. According to the story the chimpanzee was to take a baby up a 350-foot chimney—but of course they intended to use a dummy. The chimpanzee, pursued by the crowds taking part in the film ran up the chimney as per rehearsal, but he carried the real baby with him. The fact that the director tried to commit suicide after the end of this day's work—even though the baby's life was saved, at awful peril, is an example of the energy put into the creation of this picture.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

Altho Field Marshal Von Hindenberg and Emperor William assert that the Anglo-French offensive on the Western front has failed after seven weeks of effort, a French official statement declares that the Germans lost more than 52,000 prisoners alone during the French and British drives against the German lines.

Emperor William writes the German empress that the fighting in France has reached a "certain conclusion."

Since April 1 the British have advanced on a front of 20 miles from Loos to south of Bullecourt to an extreme depth of six miles east of Arras. Field Marshal Haig's men taken Vimy Ridge, dominating the plains to Douai and have virtually surrounded Lens and St. Quentin and have held their gains against desperate and repeated German attacks while inflicting heavy losses.

In the same time the French have advanced along a 15 mile front north of the Aisne and seized the heights dominating the valley of the Ailette river, the last natural defense before Laon.

In Champagne the French troops in intrepid attacks have gained the heights of Mont Carillet, the Casque, the Teton and Mont Haut, to the east of Rheims. All the French gains have been held. Repeated attacks by the German crown prince against the captured positions have been made without avail and he has expended thousands of lives in fruitless efforts to regain the lost ground.

More than 1,000 officers were included in the total of 52,000 prisoners captured. Enormous quantities of material were taken from the Germans, including 446 heavy and field guns, 10,000 machine guns and many trench guns.

Emperor William also has congratulated Emperor Charles on the failure of the Italian attacks along the Isonzo, from Plava to the sea, but General Cadorna's troops have gained the Vodice Ridge and have made important advances on the Carso. The Italians added to their gains on Friday by taking Austrian positions on a front of one and a quarter miles to a depth of 400 yards south of Castagnavizza on one of the main roads to Trieste.

An advance of 400 yards along a mile and a quarter front by Italian troops on the road to Trieste; announcement by the Germans that they had captured a French position 1,000 yards in length northeast of Soissons, and a British air raid upon German basis along the German coast constituted the chief news developments in the war theaters Saturday.

Aside from the battle fronts occurrences in Brazil and in Southern Russia bear important relation to the war.

Forty six merchant vessels aggregating 240,779 tons are restored to the world's carrying trade at a time when they are urgently needed, by a decree signed Saturday by General Braz of Brazil, enabling the country to make use of the German vessels now in Brazilian ports.

This action was the first step taken by Brazil after revoking her declaration of neutrality in the war. In consequence of Russian royalists riots in Tiflis, in the Transcaucasian government of Southern Russia, the Grand Duke Nicholas, formerly chief in command of the Russian armies, is reported to have been arrested.

PUPILS IN EXPRESSION GAVE PROGRAM

Four Graduates at Woman's College Heard in Excellent Recital Saturday Night

Pupils of the expression department of Illinois Woman's college gave the commencement recital in music hall Saturday night. The audience was of such size that it taxed the capacity of the hall and the expressions of pleasure and appreciation were many. The graduates were Misses Anne Floeth, Marceline Armstrong, Louise Reed and Hazel Ingram. The numbers had been well chosen to display the ability of the graduates and the excellence of the work done under the direction of Miss Margaret Constance. Three of the selections were of humorous vein, while the serious predominated in Miss Reed's number.

There have been numerous expression recitals at the college but none have been received with more enthusiasm nor have indicated greater talent on the part of the pupils.

MISS LUCILLE ALLISON WEDS ROY W. NEWBERRY

Pretty Ceremony at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allison Unites Well Known Young People—The Matrimonial Record.

Miss Sarah Lucille Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allison, and Roy W. Newberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Newberry of Mt. Vernon, were united in marriage Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, 600 Jordan street. The Rev. M. L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church, said the ceremony in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends. The young couple were unattended. After the ceremony a two-course buffet luncheon was served. In the dining room roses were used to secure a color idea of pink and white. Mr. and Mrs. Newberry will receive the sincere congratulations of countless friends as both hold a fast place in the esteem of the community. No announcement was made of the coming marriage and, tho the engagement has for some time been known, the news to many will come as a surprise.

The bride wore silver lace over white satin with trimmings of iridescent pearls. Pink and white sweet peas formed a handsome corsage bouquet. Misses Mayme and Pearl Allison and Miss Adelaide McCarty assisted with the serving. The ceremony, tho simple in its setting, was a very pretty one, terminating as it did a romance which had its inception in Illinois College days. Among the guests was Miss Edna Allison of Mt. Sterling, a cousin of the bride.

Miss Allison is a young woman of charm and accomplishment, well loved for her many good qualities and respected for the generous way in which her talents for service have been employed. In 1910 she was graduated from Jacksonville high school and two years later she completed a course in home economics at Illinois Woman's College. Last year she received her baccalaureate degree from Illinois college. For some time she has pursued musical study at Illinois college conservatory and last Friday evening received her certificate in piano. She has been prominent in church and Sunday school work and in the Christian Endeavor society has been especially active.

Mr. Newberry is also a graduate of Illinois college, finishing in the 1916 class. His scholastic record was a good one and shortly after his graduation he secured an excellent teaching position. He has just completed a successful term in the high school at Bloomington. Mr. Newberry is a young man of exemplary character and industrious habits. During his college course he made chemistry a specialty and he has from time to time been employed by a creamery firm, of which his father is proprietor, in Mt. Vernon. Mr. Newberry has chosen farming as his future occupation, with the vicinity of Ft. Scott, Kan., as his home. Mr. and Mrs. Newberry will go to Ft. Scott at once, leaving Jacksonville for their rural home some time today.

Jaeger-Thompson

A wedding which came to many friends as a surprise occurred Saturday in Peoria when Miss Iva M. Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, 132 South Main street, became the bride of Leon L. Jaeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Jaeger, 325 East College avenue. The young people left for Peoria on an early Alton train Saturday, announcing to their families that the wedding would take place that day.

Mr. Jaeger's friends in Jacksonville are many and the words of felicitation she will receive on the beginning of wedded life are hardly to be numbered. She was educated in this city and graduated from the Jacksonville High school. For several years she has been a teacher in the city schools, having just completed her term at the Franklin building.

Mr. Jaeger is a young man of industry and marked business ability. He is the traveling representative of the H. B. Jaeger Barber Supply Co. and in this line of work has made a steadily increasing success. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Newman, Sr., and is accorded to be a young man of sterling character and thoroughgoing ability. He is one of the prominent young farmers of his home community. The bride is one of the popular young women of southern Morgan county, enjoying the high regard of all who know her.

The bride was attired in a gown of white silk net over pink silk crepe de chine. The couple were attended by George Lewis and Miss Ethel Lewis, brother and sister of the bride. The latter was clad in a beautiful gown of white voile.

Mr. and Mrs. Newman will reside on a farm near Woodson, receiving the congratulations of their many friends as they begin wedded life under such favorable auspices.

McGinnis-Marshall

James Everett McGinnis and Miss Bernice Kathleen Marshall were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by the Rev. E. L. Pletcher, at the parsonage of Centenary M. then will return to Jacksonville to make their home.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. S. E. Marshall of 502 East College street and is a young woman of charming person and winning ways. McLane, storekeeper at Illinois School for the Blind, entertained the bridal party after the ceremony at his home, 802 West Washington street. Mrs. Ilma Meyer, mother of the bride, gave a dinner for the couple at the Morrison house upon their arrival in Chicago Saturday evening. They will be at home to friends at 352 West College avenue.

Mr. Crabbe is an instructor at the school for the Blind and Mrs. Crabbe for several years has been the efficient bookkeeper and head clerk there. Both have many friends who will join in extending congratulations of the heartiest kind. During his residence in Jacksonville, Mr. Crabbe has impressed everyone with his straightforward character and business life ability. He is well deserving of all the good wishes tendered him and his bride for a long and happy married life. Mrs. Crabbe's circle of friendship extends well beyond the environs of the school. In the circuit court Saturday morning after hearing lengthy argument Judge Jones quashed two of the indictments against Dr. J. Ulysses Day, who has a murder charge standing against him. Motion to quash the indictments was made by J. O. Priest, John M. Butler and J. Marshall Miller on behalf of the defendant. Opposing arguments were made by State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson and Judge M. T. Layman. There are two other counts in the indictment and Judge Jones gave the state until Tuesday to present further decision bearing upon the points involved. In quashing the two indictments Judge Jones held that in various points they did not meet the legal requirements. None of the indictments returned against the defendant were drawn by the present state's attorney. It is understood that if the court should rule that the other two indictments cannot stand that this would by no means end the case. It would be possible to have a special grand jury or to re-arrest the defendant and have the case go over to another term of court.

State's Attorney Robinson Saturday morning dismissed the case against Wood Wooley wherein he was jointly indicted with Carl Ross and the defendant was therefore released. This was the only course open to the state's attorney as Wooley had been cleared by a jury in Friday's trial.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE RECORDS IN CITY SCHOOLS

Names on Honor Lists Announced Saturday Thru Superintendent's Office — Teachers' Appointments Have Been Made.

The perfect attendance records of Jefferson, Morton and Lafayette schools were issued from the office of Supt. H. A. Perrin Saturday and the records are given below. At the recent meeting of the board of education the superintendent and teachers committee were empowered to fill vacancies and it is understood that all appointments have been made and will be announced at the next regular meeting of the board.

Supt. Perrin will spend part of his summer vacation as instructor at the Illinois States normal university from June 11 to June 20, in charge of the courses in education for graded school teachers. Principal Callahan will take special university work this summer and R. C. Hufford has gone to the University of Illinois for special work. Miss Anan English is one of the teachers who has left Jacksonville for the summer and will be at the home of her parents in Nebraska the greater part of the time. A number of both high school and grade teachers will do special normal work. The attendance records referred to follow:

Jefferson School, Grade 1, Hazel Schoedsack; grade 2, Marjorie Hamm, Helen Snyder, Bernita Hutchins; grade 3, Imogene Mackey, Grace Schoedsack, Florence Johnson, Helen Smith, Gerald Shibe; grade 4, Hazel Fuller, Geraldine Kirk, Arthur Sheppard; grade 5, Marie Roberts, Marie Kirk, Ethel Westrope, Grace Holscher, Edna Christensen; grade 6, Edgar Heimlich, Hazelten Gruber, Helen Schoedsack, Helen Rawlings, Howard Roberts, Max Roberts.

Washington School, Grade 1, Mary Anthony; grade 2, Leah Tamm; grade 3, Mildred Grace Miller, Louise Anthony, Margaret Stublefeld, Grace Riley, Roy Conkle; grade 4, Paul German, Russel Hall, Chas. Williamson, Kenneth Danskin; grade 5, Thelma Lamming, Whitcomb Riley, Louise Chipchase; grade 6, Mary Edith Baumgartner, Frank Redding, Wilbur Reed.

For Sale—A new Ford car. Jacksonville Farm Supply company.

FEDERAL RECRUITING OFFICER HERE

Sergeant J. B. Stirling of Springfield came to Jacksonville Saturday and will be located at the post office building for three days to receive recruits to the U. S. army. Enlistments are sought for the war period only, the age limits being from 18 to 40 years. Citizenship papers are not required from loyal aliens who are not subjects of the enemy. The pay offered ranges from $30 to $125 a month, with board, clothes and medical attendance.

According to the government advertisements, soldiers after one year in the ranks are eligible to presidential appointment in the U. S. military academy at West Point, N. Y., or for examination for commission as second lieutenants in the regular army. As provisions have been made for such large increases in all branches of the service there are excellent chances of promotion for good men who join promptly.

For Sale—An Oakland five passenger touring car at a bargain. Jacksonville Farm Supply company.

WANTS MORE RECRUITS. Lieut. Dickson said last night that he would give recruits one more chance to join Company B before the selective draft which will be held Tuesday. Mr. Dickson will be at the Armory today and Monday and young men who want to enlist will have an opportunity. Lieut. Dickson says this will be the last chance as he will be ordered to join his company Tuesday.

During the two weeks that Dickson has been here he has secured just three recruits. This does not speak very well for the patriotism of the young men of the community. It would seem that some of them would rather join a home company and help bring it up to war strength than to be drafted and be with strangers and under strange officers. However, if the present opportunity is not embraced that is what will happen. This is your last chance. Join Company B.

THREE CARS DERAILED AT CHAMBERS STREET

Small Wreck on C. and A. When Refrigerator Cars Jumped Track.

Three refrigerator cars in north bound C. and A. freight train No. 88 in charge of Conductor Hull and Engineer Manning jumped the track as the train was entering the city about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The cars left the rails just back of the old Spire property on Hardin avenue but did not pile up until about 50 feet south of East Chambers street. The middle car of the trio was badly damaged, all of the trucks being torn off and the car thrown over on its side. The other two cars had the trucks loosened and were otherwise damaged but did not turn over.

In addition to the damage to the cars the track was damaged for a distance of several hundred feet. The car wheels smashed the ends of the ties making kindling wood of them. The switch running into the brick and tile yard also was put out of commission.

Section men were soon at work and repaired the track and the wrecker arrived from Roodhouse about 4 o'clock and the right of way was soon clear. Several trains were delayed by the accident.

Just this side of the place where the cars first left the track the embankment is high and there is a culvert under the track. Had the cars piled up at this point the damage would have been greater and perhaps loss of life might have resulted.

The cause of the accident has not been determined. It was the opinion of railroad men that a broken truck caused the wreck. The train was a thru one composed principally of refrigerator cars and it is said that it was loaded with meat for the government.

THREE PLAYS GIVEN AT ACADEMY HALL

Offerings of Special Merit Staged Under Direction of Miss Elson Barnes.

The three plays given in Academy hall Saturday evening under the direction of Miss Elson Barnes furnished one of the most pleasing dramatic entertainments ever given in the city.

The three offerings were well chosen. The first was an original playlet by Clarence Goveia, entitled "Mary's Sister." The second was an adaptation by Mr. Goveia "A Fantasy" from Hans Christian Andersen. The third was "An Experiment in Gentility," a dramatization by George Barrette of a short story by Dana Burnett.

The plays were witnessed by an audience that filled the auditorium, the admission being by invitation. It was an appreciative audience and close attention was given the players and approval was frequent.

Perhaps the best offering was Mr. Goveia's play, "Mary's Sister" proved an admirable effort. Mr. Goveia, built with ambition, but he did not overreach himself and the play bristled with bright lines. This play was acted by Miss Barnes, Mr. Barrette and Miss Daniels. It might have been the inspiration given by the lines but seldom have amateurs shown greater ability than did these three in interpreting the lines, Miss Barnes in the dual role of Mary and her sister and Mr. Barrette measured up fully to all the demands made upon them.

In "A Fantasy," Mr. Adams, Mr. Carps, Miss Badger and Mr. Goveia appeared. The theme is an unusual one and required ability in the players. Judging from the applause at the fall of the curtain their portrayals were of high class.

"An Experiment in Gentility" was full of good lines. Mr. Barrette showed ability in his dramatization of the story and the acting was also of good quality. The cast was composed of Mr. Barrette, Miss Barnes, Mr. Adams and Mr. Goveia.

The success of the plays again demonstrated the ability of Miss Barnes as a stage director. It is to be hoped that we may see more such plays and we bespeak success for Mr. Goveia if he can maintain the standard he set in his maiden attempt as a playwright.

PENALTIES FOR THOSE WHO FAIL TO REGISTER

Law in This Regard is Strict and Specific—Instructions to Registrars Contained in Communication From Adjutant General.

The following was received yesterday by Sheriff Graft and is putted for the information and guidance of all concerned:

State of Illinois.
Adjutant General's office,
Springfield, May 30, 1917.

For All Residents of Illinois.
Penalty. Imprisonment for not more than one year is the penalty prescribed for violation of the provisions of the Selective Service Law.
This may apply to any individual in the state male or female, in general, as follows:

(a) To the man required to register: for failure to do so.

(b) To any officer or agent charged with any duty in connection with registration or exemption: for failure or neglect to perform his or her duty, or for fraud in his performance.

(c) To any person (including classes (a) and (b) above): for fraudulent statement or certificate as to fitness or liability for service, or for evading or aiding another to evade the requirements of the law, or of the Regulations thereunder.

The man who fails to register, in addition to suffering the penalty, will be duly registered.

Immediate Duty. Review the entire situation and make sure that everything is ready for June 5th.

Cards of Absentees. Cards of absentees received by sheriffs and mayors may be sent to chief Registrars as soon as received; they must be sent in time to reach home precincts on June 5th.

Unidentified cards. Cards of absentees and sick which do not identify the individual with a precinct, by failing to give precinct number or home address, will be assigned by the sheriff or mayor, as the case may be, to a precinct. The letter "X" will be used to designate such cards; it will be placed before the number of precinct on card prior to transmitting it to Chief Registrar, thus: "Precinct X-1" will show an unidentified absentee or sick person assigned to the first precinct of a certain ward, city or township. A list of persons thus assigned, showing precincts will be prepared for file with the records of the registration area.

Returns. Bear in mind that two returns are required; one by telegram on form 3, and the second by mail on form 2. By proper supervision and assistance of registrars the telegraphic report to the Governor should reach this office early on the morning of June 6th. It is expected that all such reports will be in by noon of that day. Anticipate your difficulties and prepare to overcome them.

Copies of cards. In many places it will be possible to have the copies of cards made at the places of registration by unpaid volunteers. The copy must be an exact replicate, and include names of individual and of registrars signing the original. The word "Copy" will be written over words "Registration Card." Any competent person male or female may be used in copying, and need not be sworn. Before deciding on this be sure that you prepare against confusion of copies with originals; if you fear confusion do not attempt the plan.

For Registrars.
Cards of Sick and Absentees.
Handle them at any convenient time during the day; give each its series number and put it in its proper pile.

National Guard. Any man who is now a member of any recognized organization and has taken the "Hay" oath will not be registered. All others of prescribed age who claim to be in must register—they are not National Guard.

Name. The first name must be written in full; the middle name if any, need not be—an initial will do.
Date of birth. If the man does not know the exact month or day he may say, about so and so.

Dependents. To justify a statement that the individual registering has some one dependent upon him for support it must be a fact that he is now supporting the person, and that the person has no other means of support. The only dependents are those given in question. A divorced wife to whom alimony is being paid is not a dependent.

Exemption Claim. Should be made now, but may be made later.
Its purpose is to aid exemption boards, and to give the Provost Marshal General an idea of the number to be drawn, to obtain the first 500,000.

Occupational Exemptions. This class will be determined by the answers to questions Nos. 7 and 12.
A bulletin on this is being sent out from the Provost Marshal General's office to Mayors and Sheriffs.

Errata. On page 22, Registration Regulations, relating to entries of Group C on Summarization Blank, the reference to columns is transposed—15 should read 16, and 16 should read 15.

By direction of the Governor,
F. S. Dickson,
The Adjutant General of Illinois.

FARM NOTES

Only 11 Acres of Land to Feed Each Person.

The June Farm and Fireside says:
"The earth has a trifle less than 197,000,000 square miles of total surface. A little over a fourth of this surface is land, 55,000,000 square miles of it. And of this 28,000,000 square miles, or a scant fraction over one half, is soil that can be used for food production. The rest is desert, mountain range, and polar regions. A little of this might possibly be reclaimed, but not very much."

"So here we have two vital facts in the practical geography of today: There are 1,610,000,000 people on the earth to feed, and 28,000,000 square miles of tillable land with which to do it. Or, reduced to figures in which we are more accustomed to think, this means that one person must live off the production of every 11 acres, on an average, the world over. Don't say, 'It can't be done,' for it must be done or somebody will starve. In Belgium today, as for the last two years, helpless mothers watch their babies slowly starve to death before their eyes.
Poland is in almost as pitiable a plight, judging from the fragmentary reports that have filtered thru, and all Europe is suffering to some extent the poor especially."

POULTRY SUCCESSES
This season we are getting information together about the poultry successes of various Farm Bureau members as to furnish a guide for poultry operations on farms where this industry will be expanded. Immediately Ernest Schoenfeld of Morton told me the other day that during the past year, from March 1 to March 1 he sold $25 worth of eggs and chickens which were produced by 12 hens. The total cost of all feed was not over $10. The poultry business will be given special emphasis in the Farm Bureau work and a tour of the county is planned to familiarize the members with the kind of equipment and methods used on the farms where poultry is handled most successfully for winter egg production.

DAIRYING STILL PROFITABLE
Jos. E. Meisner of Morton told me recently that his dairy cows are making splendid profits in spite of the exorbitant high cost of feed. He has cows that have made much more than $100 in the past year above the cost of feed.
Some of them made over twice that much. Mr. Meisner is going to give a talk on farm dairy methods at the Farmers' Institute in Pekin this fall and he is getting together some of the actual figures of his own experience to illustrate his remarks. Those who have noticed the reports from time to time of the Mc-Lean County Cow Testing Association have also noticed the splendid records of many of the cows from the herd of Adolph Nierstheimer, Jr., of Pekin. He has pointed out to me several cows that are giving tremendous yields of milk right along and his whole herd yields a surprising amount of milk every day, as compared with the ordinary farm dairy. Experience of these men and others indicates the course one must pursue to make dairying profitable under adverse conditions.

E. T. Robbins,
Tazewell County Agricultural Agent.

A FEW SECRETS OF BAKING SUCCESS

Too often you attribute your lack of success in baking to yourself when in reality your oven is at fault. Best authorities agree that to get the best results in baking you must have an evenly heated oven; an oven in which the heat is easily controlled; and a ventilated oven thru which a current of fresh heated air passes.

These requirements are embodied in Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges which also have the advantage of an elevated oven—no stooping. Then too they have a glass oven door which prevents many baking failures as you can see the baking without opening the oven door. And there's no guessing at the oven heat as the sensitive oven thermometer registers it. These ranges are sold here

Bake Without the "Ake"

No More Uncomfortable Stooping

This is possible if you use a Leonard Hi-Oven Range. The elevated oven will save you many a backache and you have the satisfaction of having a perfectly heated and easily controlled oven. The glass oven door is a wonderful advantage, too.

Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges

(Burn Coal or Wood—May Be Equipped for Gas)

Are Built as All Ranges Ought to be Built

The natural course of heat is upward instead of downward. This is why the oven in a Leonard Hi-Oven Range heats so much easier and more perfectly than the oven in an old style low oven range. The heat is evenly distributed on both sides of the oven so that the baking never needs turning. No more burning on one side and half baked on the other.

Then, too, the oven is so constructed that a current of superheated fresh air passes thru it at all times. This makes the baking light with a crisp brown crust. The meaning of real baking pleasure is not realized until you buy a Leonard Hi-Oven Range.

Why These Ranges Are Durable

The body flue of every Leonard Hi-Oven Range is lined throughout with heavy cast iron linings. This protects the body from the destructive gases. Then, too, the sheet material is of Rust Resisting Copper Bearing Sheet Iron. Not a particle of ordinary steel is used.

A Leonard Hi-Oven will save work for you
It is made to last and save fuel, too.

KING GORIN CAPTURES
KENTUCKY HANDICAP

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 2.—The four year old Transvaal-Ethel Simpson colt, King Gorin, owned by R. L. Baker & Co., of Lexington, Ky., under a masterful ride by Jockey Mack Gardner and favored by a light impost of 108 pounds, won the fifth renewal of the Kentucky handicap at Douglas Park here today, by a neck from John W. Schorr's three year old Brown Stick colt Cudgel before the largest crowds that ever witnessed the running of the stake. Half a length back was Andrew Miller's Roamer, which made his third try for the event. Boots, coupled in the betting with Ed Crump as the A. K. McCumber entry finished fourth beaten for the show money by two lengths. Old Rosebud, the 9 to 1 favorite and Opportunity finished in the rack after setting ferocious pace for half a mile. The time of 2:04 1-5 for the mile and a quarter was remarkable considering the condition of the track, which was lumpy and slow.

LAKE FOREST WINS
INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

CHICAGO, June 2.—With a score of twenty eight points, a well balanced team from Lake Forest, Ill., Academy, won the sixteenth annual interscholastic meet held under the auspices of the University of Chicago today. Three hundred athletes from ninety high schools and academies competed.

Scott High School of Toledo, Ohio, was second with 19 points and East High School of Aurora, Ill., third with 15 points. W. A. Adams of Manteno, Ill., won the cup for individual honors. He scored twelve points, finishing second in the high jump, fourth in the discus and was tied with two others for second in the pole vault.

Weather conditions kept down the time in the track events.

WILL NOT PERMIT BOY-COTT AGAINST VETERANS

CINCINNATI, O., June 2.—The National baseball commission today issued a notice in which it construed legislation by major or minor leagues, that virtually places a boycott on seasoned and veteran ball players as a class or individuals as contrary to the spirit of the National agreement and therefore null and void. The notice was issued in answer to many requests received from minor league clubs for a ruling on the validity of league legislation requiring members to employ a prescribed number of players without previous professional experience. The notice said that the commission regarded such a measure as predicated upon economic considerations and designed to aid a minor league club in keeping within the salary limit of its classification as prescribed by the national agreement and in developing talent.

The commission, however, stated it insists that in the observance of the rule there shall be no discrimination against experienced or veteran players who apply for employment, provided they consent to contract with a club at or within the salary limit effective in the league.

While Charley Deal's hitting for the Cubs hasn't been up to his Kansas City work of last year, the former Bostonian looks to be a handy pastime for Mitch to stick into the fray at times.

Thresher is another pastime whose minor league mark shrinks whenever he gets a chance with the majors. This Southern leaguer who is a whale with the stick in his home country, has had several trials with the Mackmen, but his bat has failed to dent American league pitching.

SOLDIERS KEPT BUSY FT. SHERIDAN CAMP

Fred W. Gray Writes Interesting Letter Telling of Conditions and Work There.

The following letter from Fred Gray of this city, gives an interesting review of life at Ft. Sheridan.

Post Hospital, Fort Sheridan, Ill. June 1, 1917.

The Journal, Jacksonville, Illinois.

Robert Foster and I have been located at Sheridan now for about ten days, and like it here very much altho we hated to see Lashmet sent to Fort Benjamin Harrison and Rogers to Fort Snelling.

The first thing which impressed us upon our arrival was the temperature. It is so cold here that we are just beginning to get acclimated. The hospital is located right near the Reserve Officers Training Camp, on a high bank overlooking Lake Michigan, and the lake breeze is at times refreshing, to say the least, but we believe that we prefer it to the dust clouds described by Russel Pinkerton in his recent letter. There are eight of us in our tent, and it was so cold the first night they moved us into tents that we bought an oil stove which is the envy of the camp. Our tent-mates are a very congenial bunch—all college or university men—and we are like one large family of boys, but we have been somewhat disturbed by rumors that some of us are to be sent to Texas and some to Maine, (in the immediate future). There are plainly twice as many privates here at the hospital as they can use comfortably, but most of us want to stay here for the summer if possible. If we have to move we prefer Maine to Texas, but the officers don't call us into consultation on such subjects, and all we can do is to wait and see what turns up.

The Drill Schedule.

We are very busy. When we first arrived we didn't do much but pull dandelions, wash windows, and so forth, but now we've got down to a systematic drill schedule. We have Reveille at 6:15 a. m. and from 7:15 until 9:45 we have squad drill and general drill. From 10 a. m. until 11 a. m. we have a class in human physiology and I suppose that in connection with this we shall soon have lectures on "First Aid." From 1 p. m. until 4:30 p. m. we have more drill and by "Tattoo" at 9 o'clock we are usually so tired that our canvas-cots and hay ticks feel like feather-beds, and the 5:45 a. m. bugle blows all too soon. We drill so much that we have ravenous appetites, but have a hard time to convince ourselves that we are underfed when we get on the scales because we are all getting fat.

Our hospital is pretty busy all the time, because the Officers' Training Camps contain 5,000 men, and several of them get sick or injured every day. To be sure they don't let us perform the more serious operations as yet, but we have all kinds of opportunities to nurse measles, scarlet-fever, pneumonia and so forth, and there is nothing whatever novel any more about going after some one with a stretcher.

Bob Foster drilled a squad of some twelve or thirteen men the other day and did very well. I oughtn't to tell this because I was in his squad and he "bawled me out" when I got out of step.

Inspection by Visiting Officers.

One day last week we were reviewed by Col. Goodwin of the British War Mission and Col. Nicholson, Commanding Officer at Fort Sheridan. Today we had monthly muster and inspection. This afternoon we expected a visit from Major General Barry, Commander of the Central Division of the Army. We got our tents into unusually good order for his visit, but he hasn't arrived yet.

We are near the Y. M. C. A. building. It is a large frame building and will seat several hundred men. They have the same advantages and accommodations that they had at Jefferson Barracks, and in addition they have some very noted speakers. Last Sunday they had sermons by Rev. Chas. W. Gilkey of Chicago, and by Bishop Fallows. Last night Raymond Robbins spoke to several hundred men. Beginning next week the Y. M. C. A. will have classes in conversational French under a Professor of French from the University of Chicago. I expect to enter the class for those who have had two years of French.

I went to see Coach Harmon the other evening. Fred Stewart and Stuart Russell were calling on him at the same time, and it seemed like a regular Jacksonville reunion.

It is almost nine o'clock, and if they catch us with candles burning after that hour we run the risk of having to wash pots and pans for a week, and that is not half as interesting as carrying a stretcher, so I must close.

With best wishes I am,
Sincerely yours,
Fred W. Gray.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

The last regular meeting of the Ministerial Association until after the summer vacation, will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building Monday at 9 a. m. instead of 10 o'clock as heretofore. There are several items of interest to be considered and a full attendance is desired.

"The Happy Medium"

THERE is so much of the time when the touring car is a large, than you need and a two-passenger roadster would be too small, that the LEXINGTON Minute-Man Clubster is the happy medium.

The Clubster seats four adult passengers comfortably yet when only two or three are riding it does not have that partially occupied appearance which a larger car inevitably has.

The LEXINGTON Clubster is a smart-looking, sociable car. Because it is a LEXINGTON and equipped with a Moore Multiple Exhaust System it has the "pep" and responsiveness which only LEXINGTON can have. The Moore Multiple Exhaust System gives 22.8% more usable power with less gasoline, reduces carbon and ignition troubles to a minimum, and saves wear and tear on engine and car.

Like all LEXINGTON models the Clubster is particularly suitable for women drivers. No other car steers so easily, or gives such a complete feeling of absolute control and dependability.

The LEXINGTON four-passenger Clubster is the season's most pleasing car of this type. From every standpoint, power, beauty, comfort, and economy, it is an ideal car.

See it and you will admit it.

HOME ECONOMIES EXHIBIT AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Suggestions Made With Practical Value for Reducing High Living Costs—Many Copy Recipes and Read Rules for Menu Making.

The exhibit in the home economics department of Illinois Woman's college Saturday afternoon was well attended and the visitors were unanimous in their praise of the work done. The exhibit was one of special merit and well indicated the high degree of proficiency which is attained by the young women receiving instruction in this department. Miss Isabel Walker is head of the home economics department of the college and Miss Swingle is instructor in home economics and chemistry, and that their services are of a high order was clearly demonstrated in the exhibit yesterday.

Special Interest This Year.
Special interest attached to this exhibit this year because of the every day discussion of home economic themes. It had been the desire of the department this year to offer especially practical ideas in order to help solve the home problems of living costs. The special interest in the exhibit on this account was well indicated by the number present who were copying recipes displayed and making notes which they expected to use in connection with home affairs. It is only in latter years that due recognition has been given the truth that the proper management of household affairs is really a definite science. Certainly the exhibit this year evidenced the practical work done in the department and has a distinct value to both the students and the public.

An interesting feature of the exhibit were the breads in which other materials are in part substituted for wheat flour. This group included Indian meal bread, corn meal rolls, rice bread, apple corn bread, rolled oats bread, Indian meal doughnuts and corn meal and wheat bread. Recipes for a number of these are given herewith:

Corn Meal and Wheat Bread
1½ cups milk or water or mixture of the two, ½ cake compressed yeast or ½ cup liquid yeast, 1½ teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful sugar, 1 cup corn meal, 1 teaspoonful butter, 2 cups wheat flour. Method: Add liquid to meal and seasoning, cook 20 minutes in double boiler. Allow to cool until lukewarm, add yeast and flour. Mold, let rise twice, making into loaves before second rising. Bake 45 or 50 minutes.

Apple Corn Bread
2 cupfuls white corn meal, 2 teaspoonful sugar, ½ teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful soda, 1-2-3 cup milk,

3 tart apples pared and sliced. Method: Mix the dry ingredients, add milk and beat thoroughly, add apples. Pour into a well buttered shallow pan and bake 30 minutes in hot oven.

A number of dishes which may be substituted for meat were included in another group. There were bean and cheese loaf, oatmeal with cheese, cereal and nut chops, lima bean loaf, bean loaf, rice cutlets with peas and cheese sauce, rice and cheese croquettes. Since these dishes contain a large amount of protein found in nuts, cheese, peas and beans, they should not be served with meat but in place of it. The recipe for bean and cheese loaf is given below.

Bean and Cheese Loaf
1 can red kidney beans, (29 oz.) mashed, 1 cup grated cheese, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1 teaspoonful butter, salt and pepper, finely chopped onion. Form in roll and bake frequently while baking. Serve with tomato sauce.

Among starchy dishes which can be served in place of potatoes were creamed macaroni in green peppers, dandelions with rice border, rice timbales, vegetable croquettes, rice czarina, rice croquettes, macaroni croquettes, baked bananas, sautéed bananas, macaroni in tomato cases. Since these dishes lack the mineral constituents of the potato care should be taken to serve them with either root or green vegetables. The rice czarina was an especially appetizing dish and the recipe taken from American Cookery is as follows:

Rice Czarina
1 inch layer boiled rice, chopped fresh or canned tomatoes, salt, pepper, butter, ¾ inch layer rice, chopped green peppers. Continue alternate layers with rice on top. Garnish with thin slices of tomato in center and thin cut pepper rings around edge. Pour over it two tablespoonful of melted butter. Cover tightly and cook in slow oven for 30 minutes. Just before serving add two teaspoonful melted butter.

The salads were a tempting array and included green pepper and cheese salad, cucumber and beet salad, egg and cheese salad, pea and nut filling in lemon cases, nut and lettuce salad.

The exhibit of jellies, jams, marmalades and preserves was arranged on a small table and formed one of the most interesting groups in the department.

Rules in Menu Making
Under the heading of "Principles of Menu Making" were given a number of rules to be followed in feeding the family. A partial list of these principles is given:

1. Consider needs of family.
(a). Children and old people require special types of food.
(b). Sedentary people require food easy of digestion.
(c). Muscularly active people may have food less easy to digest.

2. Keep within a certain limit of expense.
(a). Avoid expensive food of little nutritive value.

(b). Economize by buying staples in large quantities.
Use left-overs.
Steam vegetables.
Cook vegetables with skins on.
Use water in which vegetables are cooked as a basis for soups or sauces.
3. Make meals attractive.
(a). Vary the meals.
(b). Serve together foods which contrast in texture, color or flavor.

4. Balance the meals.
(a). Take at least one day's meals as a unit. Don't use left-overs on the same day when they were originally served.

(b). Have all food principles represented in each meal.
(c). If main course is heavy, serve light dessert and vice versa.

(d). Serve foods hard to digest with those easy of digestion.

5. Provide ample bulk in food.
(a). Serve green vegetables at least once a day.

(b). Serve fresh or dried fruits daily.

(c). Serve coarse fibered vegetables such as carrots, beets, turnips, parsnips, cabbage, onions, celery.

(d). Serve breads from coarse flour.

(a). Save the expense of foods not in season.
(b). Serve light easily digested food in hot weather, heavier foods in cold weather.

Another feature which attracted much attention was the various food articles which make up the daily ration of the American soldier, the exact proportion of each article being indicated. The group included bacon, fresh meat, bread, potatoes, beans, coffee, sugar, evaporated milk, lard, butter, prunes or preserves, and various condiments.

A useful feature of the home economics department is the instruction given in modern methods of sanitation. A number of charts in the exhibit of this department illustrated by local views, the important part played by the garbage disposal system upon the health of the community, how the plague is carried by rats, the causes and cure of tuberculosis, the problem of infant mortality, the menace of the house fly, the right and wrong way in pumps, the prevention of rabies by strict quarantine. The exhibit also included various booklets issued by the U. S. public health service and the U. S. department of labor.

MILKOLINE

PURE CONDENSED BUTTERMILK FEED — HEALTH

Here's the Greatest Profit-Maker Ever Offered the Poultry Raiser, Feeder and Packer

MILKOLINE in 60 gallon barrels gives you a tonic-appetizer, bowel regulator and egg producer better than buttermilk at 1½c per gallon. For years the greatest poultry experts in the world have recognized the value of buttermilk as a food-tonic-regulator for poultry, but the big feeders, shippers and packers undertaking the use of raw buttermilk ran up against objections which more than offset the many advantages of buttermilk for use in poultry feeding. In the main these objections were the excessive cost; inconvenience, trouble and expense of handling and the poor keeping qualities during the different seasons in different climates.

MILKOLINE is a scientific product which eliminates every objection to the use of raw buttermilk, cuts the cost to a mere trifle, includes invaluable medicinal qualities and is of the same uniform quality in winter or summer, in the far north or the extreme south.

MILKOLINE is simply pure, fresh buttermilk, condensed, modified and medicated—one gallon equaling 50 gallons of the best buttermilk; retaining food values and acidity without the useless bulk. It is so prepared that it will keep indefinitely in any climate and will not mould, rot or sour.

Acidity is the great regulator of the digestive system—and this, combined with the food and medicinal values of the Oil of Sassafras used in the preparation of MILKOLINE provides a product which is greatly relished by fowls and has an immediate and most pleasing effect when mixed in very small quantities with water or other food-stuffs.

MILKOLINE has proven its great worth to thousands of poultry feeders and packers—including the very largest institutions in America. Their repeat orders month after month and their statements that they would not be without MILKOLINE is proof that our product really is the wonder-worker that we claim for it.

MILKOLINE Makes Healthy, Vigorous Fowls; Moreth Loss of 90% and More.

MILKOLINE not only prevents many of the most distressing diseases known to poultry, but it provides an even greater service as a fatterer and egg producer. Its use brings a greater and more rapid growth of every fowl in the fattening pen; builds firmer, purer flesh, adds wonderfully to the general vitality of the entire flock, and, owing to its nutritive qualities, (usually lacking in the rations of all farm fed fowls) makes record layers of hens that previously were very poor egg producers.

Biggest Poultry Feeders, Shippers and Packers say MILKOLINE Reduces Death List 90% and More.

MILKOLINE is not sold as a patent medicine and yet it is making wonderful records as a disease preventive. We have statements by some of the greatest poultry feeders and packers in America, saying that the use of MILKOLINE has reduced their death rate 90% or more. In fact a sickly fowl is practically never seen in a flock properly and regularly supplied with MILKOLINE.

MILKOLINE'S great service as a disease preventive alone, to say nothing of its greater value as a flesh builder and egg producer—would make it indispensable to every feeder and packer who wants the maximum profits from the marketing of poultry.

A Genuine Dependable Life-Saver for BABY CHICKS! A Fearless Foe Against White Diarrhoea!

As MILKOLINE becomes more and more universal in use among poultry raisers, the dreaded white diarrhoea that takes a death toll of millions of baby chicks every year will be almost unknown. Although MILKOLINE is not featured as a preventive or a cure for this most destructive of all poultry diseases we will match results against those produced by any white diarrhoea remedy on market regardless of name or price.

From the Kansas Farmer, we quote as follows:

"Scientists have found in sour milk one of the greatest foes of the bacteria to be found in the large intestines. Since practically all poultry diseases aside from roup, are intestinal, this fact is important. Where sour milk is fed regularly to poultry the mortality is less and if young chickens are fed of it from the start it prevents white diarrhoea."

It is the lactic acid in the buttermilk that has this great value as a destroyer of disease germs—and in MILKOLINE we have the active principal of ordinary buttermilk multiplied 50 times.

For use in feeding baby chicks, only 2½ tablespoonful of MILKOLINE are used in one gallon of water—and the results are as immediate and pleasing as they are wonderful.

YOU MUST BE PLEASED OR WE WON'T ALLOY YOU TO PAY

We could supply pages of argument in favor of MILKOLINE. There are hundreds of points we have not room to discuss here, but a book of arguments could not convince you in the degree that you will be convinced as to the merits of MILKOLINE after you give it a fair test.

That's what we want you to do—give it a fair test and entirely at our risk.

Let us have your trial order for a few gallons. It will be shipped to you prepaid at the prices quoted below.

Use it according to the simple directions you will receive. Just give it a fair chance to make good—and we will rest our case there.

We know that you will be pleased—delighted—we know that you will point the hundreds of other leading poultry raisers, feeders and packers who say they would not think of being without MILKOLINE. But if, after you make this test, you should for any reason have the slightest doubt as to the worth of our product—if you do not feel beyond a doubt that you have had great big value for your money, we insist that you notify us to that effect so that we may return your money.

We don't want your money unless you feel that MILKOLINE is all that we claim it to be, but if you are willing to make the test on the chance of making the greatest find since you entered the poultry business—give us a trial order.

Most Eminent Medical Authorities Endorse It.

Dr. Eberle and Dr. Braithwaite as well as Dr. Simon—all distinguished authors—agree that whatever may be the disease, the urine seldom fails to furnish us with a clue to the principles upon which it is to be treated, and accurate knowledge concerning the nature of disease can thus be obtained.
If backache, scalding urine or frequent urination bother or distress you, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, gout or sciatica or you suspect kidney or bladder trouble just write Dr.
Pierce at the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N.Y.; send a sample of urine and describe symptoms. You will receive free medical advice after Dr. Pierce's chemist has examined the urine—this will be carefully done without charge, and you will be under no obligation. Dr. Pierce during many years of experimentation has discovered a new remedy which he finds is thirty-seven times more powerful than lithia in removing uric acid from the system. If you are suffering from backache or the pains of rheumatism, go to your best druggist and ask for a 50-cent box of "Anacid" put up by Dr. Pierce. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women and Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the blood have been favorably known for the past forty years and more. They are standard remedies to-day—as well as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels. You can get a sample of any one of these remedies by writing Dr. Pierce.

Doctor Pierce's Pellets are unequalled as a Liver Pill. One tiny, Sugar-coated Pellet a Dose. Cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease.
Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of these ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free

WHITE HALL MUSIC CLUB GIVES CONCERT

Enjoyable Program at First Baptist Church Thursday Evening in Interest of Public Library—Troop Trains Pass Thru on Burlington —Monthly Weather Report—Other White Hall Notes

White Hall, June 1.—Troy Young, son of T. K. Young of this city, has been made general manager of the Turbine Rope Company at Wellsville, New York.
The appointment is an advancement from the position of head draftsman.
Mr. Young was engaged in draughting in St. Louis, previous to going to the Turbine rope company two years ago, and he has advanced rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Springgate are again located in White Hall, after a residence of six months in Indianapolis, Ind., which they moved from Koonhouse.
Their daughter, Mrs. Charles Sawyer, resides in Indianapolis, and her husband being a well known railroad passenger representative.

The musical event of the season last closing was a concert given at the White Hall Music Club in the First Baptist church Thursday evening. It was held in the interest of the White Hall public library, and the proceeds go to that institution.

The people of this community were devoting their attention Thursday to a number of troop trains going through on the Burlington. They were traveling in 32.4 special trains, but their point of origin and destination were not given out.
They will be stationed at Fort Snelling, St. Paul, before being forwarded to France, and they constitute the 3th Infantry.

Mrs. Minnie McKenzie and daughter of Pine Bluffs, Ark., are guests of the Ken-dalls.

F. D. Hackney has returned to New York City, after spending vacation of two weeks with old home friends.

The monthly report of R. B. Pearce, cooperative observer of the weather bureau, shows that a total of 137 inches of rain fell during the month of May, the greatest fall in 24 hours being 1.52 inches on the 21st. The month's maximum temperature was 128 degrees, minimum 45, and the mean 58 degrees. There were fifteen days with precipitation of one inch or more of rain, ten partly cloudy, four ten cloudy and eleven clear days. The highest temperature was 30 degrees on the 19th and the lowest 23 degrees on the 25th. The cool and wet weather at the close of the month had given vegetation and farm work a setback. The following report is made of the tornado: "At 1 o'clock in the afternoon of May 26th a tornado passed slightly less than one mile north of this station with such force as to demolish property within its path.
From a compilation of reports concerning the storm in this locality, it is gathered that it had its origin in the vicinity of Pearl, Pike county, Illinois, and followed to the south of the Chicago & Alton Railroad, doing a considerable amount of damage in the Hartwell Drainage and Levee District. It occupied a path approximately fifty miles in width, possibly observed its approach to this station thirty minutes before its arrival, as it traveled rather slowly, passing the north edge of the town where there was little property within reach.
In this township the loss is conservatively placed at $200,000. The storm was up by the cloud were deposited to the north of the storm path for several miles.
The approach of the cloud was attended with light and a trace of precipitation, there being some lightning. North of the storm path there was very heavy precipitation, and a trace of precipitation extended from the cloud level downward to a point resembling the trunk of an elephant. It seemed to lift soon after leaving White Hall and passed out of the range of observation, apparently dissolving. Among oldest inhabitants it is decided that this storm was never before witnessed."

M. HELLENTHAL HAS HAD EVENTFUL LIFE

Long Time Jacksonville Resident Was Born in Bavaria—Served Three Years in War—Relates Interesting Reminiscences

One of the respected and elderly citizens of Jacksonville is M. Helenthal who has indeed had a career of interest and achievement as an upright citizen, a valued business man and a worthy soldier for three years and more during the war of the rebellion and is now enjoying the fruits of a useful life honored by all who know him.

Mr. Helenthal was born in Michael-bach, Bavaria, May 15, 1858. His mother died when he was fifteen months old and his father died a year and a half later so that he has no recollection of either. He was well cared for by an aunt till he was twelve years of age when he came to this country with an elder brother, landing in New York city where he remained two years and then came to a farm in Jones Island two years more. Not liking the farm he went to the city again and secured employment in a pocketbook factory with about a hundred other boys and girls, each receiving the meager sum of two dollars a week. The first time he was paid it was the old fashioned one cent piece and he felt rich indeed as it was the first money of his own he had ever handled.

He had an aunt fifteen miles from Peoria who had several times written him to come to her home and he finally decided to do so. He had no recollection of Peoria and indeed he was at the end of his long journey. His aunt and two cousins were there to meet him and took him home and treated him kindly. He remained with them on the farm for a year and they would gladly have kept him longer but he did not like to stay and went to Peoria to see if he could find a chance to learn a trade.

He landed in a hotel kept by a good natured German whom he asked if there was anyone who wanted a boy to learn a trade but the man said he knew of none. A man sitting at the table told him to go with him to Allison's carriage works and he thought he would find a chance there. He went with the kind man who entered the office and said, "Mr. Allison, here's a boy wants to learn to be a carriage trimmer. The proprietor won't impress him and he's a good boy."

"To— with your boy," they work six months, think they have learned the trade and run away. "But I will go his security that he will stay."

"Very well; I'll try him on that condition."

So the bargain was made, $2.00 a week the first year, $3.00 the second and $4.00 the third. A night school two evenings a week afforded him the opportunity at a dollar a week tuition. He was enabled to do this by the fact that after he had been with his employer two months the latter offered him a chance to do chores for his board.

When his time was out he went to "Leland" where he got a great experience. He was but eighteen years of age and rather boyish looking and when he applied for a job the first question rather sternly put, was "How old are you?"

"From whom did you run away?"

He replied he had not run away but he had no skill and no money and no establishments—furnished him with the same experience. This rather discouraged him and he decided to return to Peoria but on the way he met a man who home he came across the Miller carriage works and entered and asked for a job only to be met again with the question, "Whom did you run away from?"

He said nobody and asked them to write his former employer at Peoria if they doubted his honesty. He was enabled to take his word and give him a job.

He remained twelve months and at the end went to Louisville, Kentucky.
He remained there five years and then began to rove again. He went to visit a sister in Elizabeth, N. J., New Jersey, a brother in New Berlin, Connecticut, and then went to Charleston, South Carolina seeking work at his trade but found yellow fever prevailing there and moved on to Columbia, S. C., where he worked a while and then went to Macon, Mo., Atlanta, Ga., Montgomery and Mobile, Alabama, Lake Pontchartrain and New Orleans. Failing to get work there he decided to go north by the river on a freight boat. At last they started and made progress slowly but had a good time. As they neared Vicksburg, Mr.
Helenthal decided to leave the boat which he did at one in the morning and next day he heard that a distance above Vicksburg the boilers of the boat blew up wrecking the boat and killing a number of people.

At Decatur he remained five years till 1882 when he went to Chicago and entered as private in Co. C, 82d Ill. Infantry. He had intended to carry a gun but they wanted drummers and tried several without success till finally they detached him for the purpose. He protested that he knew nothing of the business but they made him take the sticks and he was unable to do so and was made to fool the officers and his duty was before him.

He has an elaborate discharge highly embellished with pictures and emblems and it gives the substance of his military experiences. It reads as follows:

To whom it may concern: Know ye that M. Helenthal has been honorably discharged from service of U. S. June 19th.

May future generations never forget the debt of gratitude they owe the brave boys in blue who on land and sea volunteered during this memorable and able struggle for the preservation of our union.

To all whom it may concern: Know ye that M. Helenthal enlisted from Chicago Aug. 14, 1862 and was mustered into the U. S. service at Springfield Sept. 25, 1862 as private of Co. C, 82d regiment Ill.
Infantry under Colonel Jacob LaSalle and Col. Fred Hecker to serve three years or during the war. He was wounded at Chattanooga in the left wrist by a gun shot, was captured at Gettysburg, Penn., and sent to Belle Isle where he was imprisoned about two months and was exchanged and rejoined the regiment at Lookout Valley, Tenn. He was detached as musician after the battle of the regiment and served as such until honorably discharged June 9, 1865 at Chicago, Ill., on account of age of war. The regiment was assigned to Fort Sumter, S. C., third division 11th corps and later the 20th army corps of the Cumberland and engaged in battle at Chattanooga, Va., Gettysburg, Penn., Waxahatchie, Tenn., Lookout Mountain, Missionary Ridge, Rocky Force, Resaca, Ga., Cass-ville, Dallas, Kenesaw Mountain, Peach Tree Creek, Siege of Atlanta, March to the sea, Savannah, Averyboro, Benton-ville and a number of minor engagements.

A detailed story of the battles in which he took part and a story of his army life would occupy too much space but a few are given. After being taken a prisoner at Gettysburg, imprisoned and exchanged he was sent with a lot of men to a parole camp at Annapolis, Md.

Twenty died out of 300 before they returned to Fort Sumter. The men who remained were sent to Fort Sumter, S. C., and hoping to carry a gun he took one and the equipment of a regular infantry man. The men were sent to Pittsburg and thence to Indianapolis and while there they broke into some whiskey barrels on some flat cars and were their canteens. He himself was strictly temperate but nearly all the men were drunk. Even the lieutenant in charge of the company was intoxicated.

When they reached Jeffersonville, Indiana, opposite Louisville, the train halted for a moment to sober up and he decided to risk a visit to his friends in Louisville. He secured a civilian's dress and went along remaining for a week. Loyalty was very strong there and he wanted him to desert and remain with them but he refused. Meanwhile the command was getting into shape to decided it would be well for him to be moving. He donned his uniform and went to the provost marshal and told him he had been sick and detained from his command and would like to join it.
The official was dubious and asked the young man where he had been and he told him he had been in the battle of Gettysburg he cross examine him and finding his story of that affair correct he ordered the clerk to make out his transportation to Nashville, Tenn.

Maxwell's Great Engine Cuts Your Gasoline Bill in Half

Thousands of Maxwell owners run their cars for $6 to $8 a month—the Maxwell sets the pace for the world in upkeep economy.

Mechanical efficiency—that's the fixed, unswerving purpose of the Maxwell organization, from the President down to the youngest and newest apprentice.

The real motor car—the real Maxwell—is on the inside, where you can't see it.

Motor car value depends on the hidden machinery not on a glossy body, rich upholstery, handsome lamps,

—not on gimmicks and novelties which are only too often damaged before the public, for much the same reason that a fisherman decorates his hook with gay feathers and bright metal ornaments.

The Maxwell has one chassis model—one stable, time-tried model,

—never tinkered with by the fellow with an untested idea to exploit,

—but a model that has been developed, refined, perfected, year by year—soberly, painstakingly, scientifically.

The Maxwell Mechanically Right

The Maxwell Motor Company waited four years to make that statement.

Starting on sound, scientific principles—the company spent four years in bringing its car to mechanical perfection.

The goal is won—undisputed facts prove it.

For example, a Maxwell stock car—with an engine identically like your Maxwell will have—covered 22,022 miles in 44 days and nights, without the motor ever stopping.

That car traveled at 25 miles an hour,
—made 22 miles per gallon of gasoline,

—and scored a record never equalled by any other vehicle built by human hands.

Proof of Maxwell Economy

Thousands of witnesses spring up all over the land to testify to that.

This is a Copy of a Letter Sent to All Pan-American Stock Salesmen

To All Salesmen:--

Carefully compiled statistics prove that over 50% of the money invested in big enterprises, is invested by men and women past the middle age. The answer is that "With age comes wisdom". When you were a little fellow, you, perhaps, like most boys, did not know what was good for you. This seems to be the failure of youth. You objected to having your face washed, you ran in front of street cars, spent your money for candy and even as you grew up, last of all things, would you think of investing.

The moral of all this means, as we first started out, "With age comes wisdom". Selling soap or stock is a battle of brains, and there is bound to be a certain amount of resistance in selling. If there were no resistance, there would be no salesmen. If your prospective stock buyers knew all the good things we know about this Company they would come to our offices so fast, it would be almost impossible for us to write out applications.

It has been conceded by the wisest and most successful men in the world, that Life Insurance is the very best thing for any man or woman, and still it is one of the hardest things to sell, which all goes to prove that very few of the people you are trying to sell stock to, know what is good for them. You, of course are a stockholder in this Company. You realize the wonderful dividends in store for you, and the enormous amount of profits to be derived from the million dollars worth of motor cars we have already sold. You are buying more stock whenever you can, and so are the 900 and better satisfied stockholders, who own stock at the present time, in this Company.

No doubt, you feel many times that it is quite discouraging to try and convince a man that he ought to buy stock in this Company, when you know without any reason of a doubt, that he should do so, but you must remember that this man or this woman does not know all the good things that you do about this Company. You are acquainted with its management, you are satisfied that the officials of this Company are capable, honest, efficient, and thoroughly conversant with the many duties which arise every day in this, the most wonderful of all industries since the beginning of time.

As one of our men stated not long ago, you perhaps feel, that the man who has money today, and wants to make more money, and does not invest it in the automobile business, really does not use good common sense. This is a sort of a rough way of putting it, but when it comes right down to brass tacks, there is a whole lot of truth in this statement.

Of course, you feel, inasmuch as you are so thoroughly satisfied with your investment and your connection with this Company, that the men and women you are trying to sell stock to, should feel the same. If these people could go over our books, talk to our army of stockholders, see this business through our eyes, there would be the greatest rush of investors that you could possibly imagine, and our remaining stock issue would last but a few hours.

Failure to sell one man or one woman stock, should sharpen your wits and make you more capable to profit by the arguments and the stubbornness displayed by this prospective stock buyer, and to help you sell the next one. For, after all, it is the contest that makes it interesting, and the glory of being victorious in closing the sale with this man or this woman who, in spite of the fact that you were doing everything you could to help him or her help themselves, seems to be determined not to do so.

YOU MUST REALIZE THAT THESE PEOPLE HAVE NOT FOLLOWED AUTOMOBILE HISTORY AS WE HAVE, THEY DO NOT REALIZE AS WE DO, THAT NINE OUT OF TEN AUTOMOBILE COMPANIES AS FAR ADVANCED AS THIS COMPANY ARE SUCCESSFUL, AND THAT IF THEY WERE TO INVEST, FOR THE SAKE OF ILLUSTRATION, FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS IN FIVE AUTOMOBILE COMPANIES, ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS IN EACH, AND FOUR OF THESE COMPANIES WERE TO FAIL, AND THE OTHER SUCCEED, THE SUCCESSFUL ONE WOULD NOT ONLY REGAIN THEIR LOSS IN THE OTHER FOUR, BUT WOULD UNDOUBTEDLY, MAKE THEM THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS.

If you could make them see this one point alone, you could get their name on a subscription blank quickly. These people do not realize that one thousand dollars invested in the Paige Detroit Co. in 1913, is now worth over $37,000, and the peculiar thing about this resistance is, that these people have only to believe what they can see, to become convinced that they should invest in the Automobile business. They have only to look about them, see the thousands of cars passing up and down the streets, to realize the millions, yes billions, being made in this business and the opportunity today is far greater than ever before, and the saturation point is nowhere in sight.

This procrastination, this doubt, on the part of your prospective buyers, is something you cannot understand, and it requires diplomacy, enthusiasm, aggressiveness, and determination on your part to help, these people in spite of themselves. Why they hesitate, is something no mortal has ever solved; the flesh is weak.

Here we have Automobile stockholders drawing big dividends every year, dividends that clothe, feed, and give them all the comforts of life, without the slightest effort on their part, and all because of the fact that these people had enough gumption to purchase stock in any one of the now prosperous Automobile Companies, when they were first starting. On the other hand, we find people, the people you are trying to sell, who will dissipate one, two or five hundred dollars, and think nothing of it.

The progress of this Company is really phenomenal; our cars, as you know, are a proven success, and we are forging ahead more and more every day. We have long since passed the question mark. Our stock, while selling at $10.00 per share, will not long remain there. We tell you this so that you will put forth your utmost efforts to help these people, who are so slow to help themselves. Get into the game in real earnest, make them buy, they will thank you later.

Our stock in Decatur and surrounding territory, is selling faster and faster, people are now buying stock in thousands where previously they bought in hundreds. Throw all your energy and strength into this money-making arena, tell your people to strike while the iron of opportunity is red hot, and buy PAN-AMERICAN stock now before it advances.

Yours for more business,

EXTRA LARGE ADVANCES IN FUTURE DELIVERIES
Resulted from Attempt to Purchase Small Amounts On a Market Bare of Offerings.

Chicago, June 2.—Extraordinary advances in the price of future deliveries of wheat resulted today from attempts to purchase small amounts on a market bare of offerings. The extreme rise was 22 cents a bushel, but quotations underwent a subsequent sharp drop and closed unsettled with net gains of 8 to 9 cents a bushel. July and September. Cash wheat, did not follow the advance in futures. Corn finished 1/4 to 1/2 up. Oats varying from 1/2 decline to 3/4 advance.
It required actual buying of only 40,000 bushels to cause the jump in the price of September wheat. Even smaller trading forced the rise in the July and August. The sale was a bullish advance in wheat, but the government announcement that the government intends to protect growers in marketing their crop and that prices would be guaranteed high enough to stimulate production. Continued unfavorable weather formed the chief stimulus to buyers in the corn market.
Oats sympathized with the ascent of corn and wheat. Besides export business of late had tempered bullish enthusiasm.
Wheat and oats were bullishly influenced by the action of hogs and grain. Closing out of spreads between hard and ribs however, had a depressing effect on hard.

WHAT PERMALITE IS

PERMALITE is a permanent and constant battery service for lighting and starting automobiles—a battery that lasts forever because of the Permalite System of Battery exchanges—an exchange conducted in identically the same manner as gas tank exchanges.

PERMALITE gives the automobile owner a permanent Electrical Service Exchange. Permalite stands in the same comparative relation to the ordinary battery as does the modern gas tank to the old form of acetylene generators, long since discarded.

PERMALITE is a battery so well and economically constructed by us that we can afford to lease to you for a nominal sum with a small exchange fee of $1.25, and you can exchange it as often as is necessary at any of our service stations, without delay, receiving in its place another Permalite battery which will have been renewed at our expense and containing the same exchange guarantee.

PERMALITE is not sold—it is too expensive a battery to sell to automobile manufacturers on a competitive basis. We cannot afford to sell this battery to an automobile manufacturer at approximate cost in order to secure a hold upon the user. We have to get to make Permalite so good that we can give you the best battery service you ever had in order to keep you in our exchange. We have no other inducement to hold you.

REFUTES CHARGES MADE

Danish Minister Says Campaign Has Been Based on Incorrect and Incomplete Statistics—Has Not Received Enormous Profits by Exportations of Food Stuffs to Germany

Washington, June 2.—Constantin Brun, the Danish Minister here, has been furnished figures by his government to refute published charges that Denmark has during the whole of the present war, received enormous profits by exportations, particularly of food stuffs, to Germany, to the detriment and loss of the Entente Allies. The charges have been published by some newspapers in London and in Paris, and later in the United States.

"This campaign," said Minister Brun in a statement to The Associated Press, "has been based on incorrect and incomplete statistics and on unwarranted conclusions. These absolutely false accusations against Denmark were flatly contradicted in the House of Commons on March 27 by the British Blockade Minister, Lord Cecil, who in summing up his statements said:

"It has been suggested that Denmark has been guilty of great delinquencies as regards ourselves. I know that that has been very much resented in Denmark. I wish to say, speaking for the British government that I make no such charge against Denmark at all. I remember the Danish agreement and the campaign then set on foot, and I can only say that that agreement has been carried out with admirable fidelity by the Danish parties to it. I believe that it has proved exceedingly useful and that it has been well observed by the whole Danish population with very few exceptions. It has been suggested that even if that be true of the first Danish agreement there is some other agreement into which Denmark has entered which she has not kept. So far as Denmark is concerned—I am not speaking of Holland—There has been no agreement with respect to agricultural products. Both sides, we as well as Denmark, are perfectly free in the matter. Discussions have certainly taken place and assurances have certainly been given, but I desire to say, with the utmost emphasis, that in my judgment the Danes, whenever they have given us any assurance, have endeavored honestly and honorably to fulfill them. For these reasons, so far as Denmark is concerned, I am authorized by his Majesty's government to say, after full consideration of all the aspects, that they do not see any reason to modify their present blockade policy with respect to that country.

"Nevertheless the agitation against Denmark continues and a few days ago in corroboration of those claims there was published the following figures of exports from Denmark to Germany:

1913	1916
Bacon 'Pork' .....	1348 tons
Lard .....	3341 tons
Other fats .....	196 tons
Preserved meats .....	113 tons

1916
Bacon .....	14,280 tons
Lard .....	96,720 tons
Other fats .....	72 tons
Preserved meats .....	100,800 tons

"The Danish Government has by cablegram informed me that the correct figures, according to the official Danish statistics, are as follows:

1913	1916
Bacon .....	2,100 tons
Lard .....	3,341 tons
Other fats .....	1,693 tons
Preserved meats .....	113 tons

"You will see that the former figures given are very far from being exact and on some points greatly exaggerated, but they are doubly misleading because they leave entirely out of consideration the very large quantities of foodstuffs which Denmark at all times and also during the war has constantly exported to England. The official figure for bacon exported from Denmark to England during 1916 alone is for instance not less than 84,801 tons, a figure that is surely astonishing considering the smallness and limited resources of Denmark.

As the campaign in question has to a certain extent been taken up by American newspapers, I am making this authentic statement trusting that, in justice to a small country, which under the greatest difficulties has faithfully and at important sacrifices to itself carried out its duties of neutrality towards all the belligerents, it will prevent further misjudgment in the press and contribute to the accurate knowledge of the facts at a time when, in view of the entry of the United States in the war and of the various measures under consideration for regulation and control of exports from here, a mistaken conception of the subject here discussed might cause serious and unjust harm to Denmark and to its future relations with the United States."

MAVERICKS

What is so rare as a day in June
We hear the poet sigh.
There is nothing so rare
Unless it be, a day in old July.

Don't forget to register.

We wonder if the war in Europe has anything to do with the weather.

A real woman must feel mighty proud of a man who marries her to keep from going to war.

We don't wish anybody bad luck but if the Germans should ever make an air raid on this country we hope one of the first bombs drops in a pacifist camp.

Eighteen out of the twenty-two members of the Chicago Cubs registered the other day. However, if Doyle and Merkle are not included Mitchell will have a pretty good club left anyway.

We have been unable to conceive what kind of scruples a man could have that would prevent him from defending his country against enemies. It would seem that a man with such scruples does not deserve to have a country.

Those wolves over in Schuyler county are not nearly so dangerous as the wolves down in Wall street.

If Benny Leonard proves as good a fighter in the army as he has in the ring he will surely make some trouble for any German he meets up with.

A pitcher over in the Central League is said to carry a pocketful of crushed grains of wheat which he chews and makes a preparation for the ball that makes it do strange things. At the present price of wheat, however, we predict that the practice will break up the league before the summer is over.

Freddie Welsh should have set his date for retiring from the ring on May 27.

High heel shoes may be more deadly than U-boats but we believe most people will take their chances with the high heel shoes.

Peter Maher former puglist was sentenced to the work house for a month in New York the other day.
It is said that Maher had been a bartender, but he probably was on the wrong side of the bar.

URGES KNITTED OUTFITS

FOR ILLINOIS SAILORS

The Journal is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Charles Brown of Lake Forest, who is forming units for knitting mufflers, wristlets and jackets for the sailors on the battleship Illinois. Five hundred sets will be required to completely furnish the battleship. It takes $20 worth of yarn to furnish ten sets. If there are women in Jacksonville who wish to form a unit they are asked to communicate with Mrs. Brown. Frederick A. Trant is the commander of the battleship Illinois and in a letter to Mrs. Brown he has given something of the history of the movements of the movements of the battleship in the last few years. Because of the building of newer ships the Illinois was relegated to the second line a few years ago and was kept with the nucleus crew at Philadelphia. Last fall, however, sudden orders were received to prepare for distant service and with additions to the crew the battleship sailed for Vera Cruz. There for four months the ship was charged with the duty of protecting American interest on the east coast of Mexico. When relations were severed with Germany the Illinois was ordered to join the active battle fleet and is now a member of division one of the battleship force.

SURPASSED BY NO OTHER, HE AVERS"Tanlac's Best Medicine in the World Today", Local Man Declares

"I really think Tanlac is the best medicine in the world today," W. H.
Garrison, local carpenter of 233 West College street, said on May 28.
"I suffered from muscular rheumatism for the past five or six years".
Mr. Garrison continued, "It seemed that every muscle in my body would cramp and draw, at times I couldn't sleep at night because of the pains. I couldn't work only about half the time, either."

"Well, I had read in the newspapers about so many of my friends being benefited by Tanlac that finally I decided to try the new medicine. I'm able to work all the time now and never experience the former severe pains anymore. My muscles are not the least bit sore now.
I've taken a lot of different medicines but none of them ever helped me like Tanlac. I'm glad to tell my friends about this new medicine."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like and has proven a fine reconstructive tonic for weak, run down men and men.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Jacksonville at the Coover-Shreve Drug Co., East Side store, where a special Tanlac representative is explaining the new medicine to the public daily. Tanlac also may be obtained at the west side store of the Coover-Shreve Drug Co. It is sold in Waverly at the Wyle Drug Co. in New Berlin at the New Berlin Drug Co., in Ashland at H. O. Brownback's, in Versailles at A. G. Bates and in Chapin at E. P. McKinney's.
